

I am a Holistic Consultant and specialize in Animal Communication and the field of Homeopathic Medicine. I have worked with the animals for the past 16 years and completed a four-year certificate program at the School of Homeopathy New York. In addition, I traveled to India to study with Frederick Schroyens & Farouk Master. I also studied with Rajan Sankaran in New York.

My career began when I turned to Animal Communication and Homeopathy in order to find optimum wellness for my horse. Seeing dramatic changes in him, I began this same journey for myself.

My ability to hear the animals has enabled me to understand the way in which they experience their world. I can also detect any physical pain and discover the origin of these blockages. Simply understanding and respecting the viewpoint of another can be enough to resolve issues and improve communication. In cases of deeply held emotions or strongly held behavioral problems a Homeopathic remedy is extremely supportive in bringing the animal back to balance. At times, I incorporate the Gemstone Therapy and have found that it is quite effective in the process.

My work began with the animals intending to be the voice they so desperately need. Inevitably when I work with the animals their people welcome the same kind of care and understanding. Homeopathy is a medicine suitable for everyone. When there is peace and harmony among us then we can indeed change the world.
